

Privacy and Cookie Use Policy at www.gkpge.pl.

General conditions

1. This Privacy Policy provides information on the ways of protecting the personal data of the users ("Users") of the website ("Website") located at the following electronic address: www.gkpge.pl.
2. The content of the pages of the Website constitutes the property of the Data Controller and is legally protected.
3. The Website is for information purposes. PGE Polska Grupa Energetyczna S.A. makes all efforts to ensure the correctness and relevance of the presented data.
4. In order to use the Website, the User should have a computer or a device with installed software allowing them to access the internet and browse websites. Access to the Website is possible using the most popular internet browsers.
5. PGE Polska Grupa Energetyczna S.A. declares that the pages of the Website do not contain any content that violates any rights of third parties or applicable legal regulations. In particular, the Website does not contain any content that causes or poses a threat to the privacy or safety of any person, contains information promoting illegal activities or behaviours that are offensive, threatening, obscene, defamatory or slanderous, arousing racism, persecution for ethnic, cultural or religious reasons, promoting or favouring criminal activities, violating the rights of third parties, including intellectual property rights or constituting any other form of violation of legally protected rights.

Data collection

1. In accordance with the established practice of most websites, we store HTTP queries sent to our server. Viewed resources are identified by their URLs. The exact list of information stored in web server log files is as follows:
  - the public IP address of the computer from which a query has been received (this may be directly the User's computer)
  - the client station name – identification is performed by the http protocol, if possible,
  - the user name given during the authorization process,
  - the time when a query has been received,
  - the first line of a HTTP request,
  - a HTTP response code,
  - the number of bytes sent by the server,

- the URL of the page previously visited by the User (a referer link) - if our page has been accessed via a link,
  - information on the User's browser,
  - information on errors that have occurred during the execution of HTTP transactions.
2. This data is not associated with specific people browsing the Website www.gkpgge.pl. In order to ensure the highest quality of the Website, we occasionally analyse log files in order to determine: which pages are visited the most often, which web browsers are used, whether the structure of a given page does not contain errors, etc.
  3. Additionally, we would like to inform you that Google Analytics also collects data through our Website. Google Analytics collects its own cookies, i.e. data related to a device and browser, IP address and the User's activities on a website or application, to measure and report statistics on user interaction with websites or applications that use Google Analytics. Website users can customize cookies and collected data by means of such functions as: cookies settings, User-ID identifier, data import, and Measurement Protocol Platform.

Cookie mechanism

1. Cookies are used to ensure the proper functioning of the Website; they are saved on the User's computer when they use the Website.
2. Cookies are text files allowing the PGE CG server to correctly present the data included on the Website.
3. They are used exclusively for the internal purposes of optimizing the Website's operational efficiency and for statistical analyses.
4. PGE Polska Grupa Energetyczna S.A. does not use cookies to identify the User.
5. Whether cookies are disabled or enabled depends on the configuration of a web browser, which can be freely modified by the User.
6. In accordance with the applicable regulations, the User has the right to decide on the access of cookies to their computer by previously selecting them in the window of their browser.
